Virginia Amateur Sports Announces 2025 Athlete of the Year

Virginia Amateur Sports, Inc. (VAS), organizers of the Virginia Commonwealth Games, is proud to announce that Priya Capizzi of Fairfax Station has been selected as the 2025 Virginia Youth Athlete of the Year. Nominees for this annual honor are submitted online and reviewed by age category. Priya was also nominated to represent Virginia in the National Congress of State Games (NCSG) Athletes of the Year program, with national winners announced in October.

Priya, age 11, has quickly become a standout in the wrestling community despite having less than two years in the sport. At the 2025 Virginia Commonwealth Games, she delivered a commanding performance—finishing 8-0 with seven pins and one technical fall, while allowing zero offensive points. Remarkably, each of her pins occurred in under one minute. Her rapid rise is further highlighted by her accomplishments as a two-time VAWA Girls Folkstyle State Champion and a USA Wrestling National Finalist.

Priya's athletic talent extends beyond the mat. As a power tumbler, she has earned the Virginia state title five consecutive years and is a three-time regional champion. She is equally committed to giving back, raising funds annually, and volunteering at community and athletic events. Priya earned two gold medals at the 2025 Games.

While Virginia did not have a national NCSG winner this year, the Commonwealth has a strong history of national honorees from the Virginia Commonwealth Games, including:

- 2023 Youth: Madalynn Grant – Track & Field – North Dinwiddie, VA
- 2021 Youth Female: Olivia Goodwin – Swimming – Charlottesville, VA
- 2020 Adult Female: Ashlynn Moore – Track & Field – Roanoke, VA
- 2017 Youth Male: Daylin Toms – Wrestling – Cool Ridge, WV

VAS is also excited to share that the Virginia Commonwealth Games will be hosted in the Richmond Region beginning in 2026. Additional details will be posted on our website as planning continues.
